

Is Your Life Being Scripted by Ghosts You Haven't Met?

You moved to Cuenca for a fresh start. But some patterns travel in your luggage — invisible, unspoken, and deeply loyal. Family Constellations reveals what's been running the show.

The Hidden Architecture of Your Struggle

You've done the work. You've moved countries, changed your environment, tried the therapy. Yet here you are — in the same relationship dynamics, the same financial ceiling, the same unshakeable sense of dread you can't quite explain.

The Pattern Repeats

Relationships that collapse in familiar ways.
Success that feels just out of reach. A heaviness with no clear origin. You're not imagining it — and you're not broken.

Your History Travels With You

Modern life in Cuenca offers a beautiful fresh start. But your family system — its traumas, its exclusions, its unspoken loyalties — packed itself quietly in your suitcase.

The X-Ray for Your Soul

Family Constellations makes visible what has been invisible. It reveals the ancestral echoes and hidden loyalties keeping you playing out scripts that were never yours to carry.

How It Works: The Knowing Field

Developed by German therapist Bert Hellinger in the 1990s, Family Constellations taps into what researchers call morphic resonance — the idea that information and emotional patterns can be transmitted across time and space within a family system.

In a session, we set up your family system in physical space. Whether using floor markers in a private session or trained representatives in a group workshop, something remarkable happens: the field knows. Representatives begin to feel sensations, emotions, and impulses that mirror your actual family dynamics — without knowing anything about your history.

What was hidden becomes visible. What was frozen begins to move. And what was unresolved finally finds resolution.

The Three Phases

01

Set the System

Map your family dynamics in physical space

02

Witness the Field

Observe what emerges — sensations, movements, emotions

03

Allow Resolution

Suppressed energy moves, is seen, and resolves

Why Solve It Now?

The cost of leaving ancestral patterns unaddressed is not abstract. It shows up in your body, your bank account, and your closest relationships. The question isn't whether to do this work — it's how much longer you'll carry what isn't yours.

Anxiety & Depression

Unresolved ancestral trauma frequently manifests as chronic anxiety, unexplained depression, or psychosomatic illness. The body keeps the score — even when the mind has forgotten.

Financial Ceilings

Hidden family loyalties to poverty, failure, or sacrifice can create unconscious blocks to abundance. You may be succeeding — but never quite as much as you're capable of.

Relationship Loops

Choosing the same partner archetype, repeating the same conflicts, feeling the same abandonment — these are rarely coincidence. They are systemic echoes demanding resolution.

The "Aha" Moment

When hidden dynamics surface, the weight of the past drops away. You gain agency to write your own future — and may just impress your old family and friends back home with who you've become.

THE RESEARCH BEHIND THE WORK

Systemic Theory & Phenomenology

Family Constellations is rooted in systemic family therapy, which sees each person as part of a larger relational system. It also draws on phenomenology – observing what is without forcing interpretation – so deeper truth can emerge.

Rather than relying only on cognition, the work moves through experience, body awareness, and the relational field. Bert Hellinger described this as a way of revealing hidden loyalties and restoring order to the system.

The Biology of Belonging

What Hellinger observed clinically now echoes in modern epigenetics: trauma and patterned adaptation can be transmitted across generations. We are not only emotionally connected to our lineages – we are biologically and relationally entangled.

When the excluded, forgotten, or unacknowledged are given their place, the field can shift. What was held in silence can begin to resolve.

i Research on intergenerational trauma is growing rapidly, with studies on epigenetic inheritance published in journals like Biological Psychiatry and the American Journal of Psychiatry.

The Three Phases

This process creates space for what is hidden to become visible, so the system can reorganize around truth, belonging, and resolution.

Private Sessions vs. Group Workshops

Both formats are powerful — the right choice depends on where you are in your journey and what you need most right now.

1:1 Private Sessions

A deep, focused dive into your personal system. Using floor markers and guided inquiry, we map your internal landscape in a completely private, confidential setting. Ideal for those who prefer intimacy, have sensitive material to process, or are new to the work.

- Complete confidentiality
- Flexible scheduling
- Paced to your readiness
- Deep individual attention

Group Workshops

A powerful collective experience where fellow participants represent members of your family system. This creates an immersive, bird's-eye view of your dynamics — and the group field often accelerates resolution in ways that surprise even seasoned practitioners.

- Collective field amplifies insight
- Witness others' constellations
- Community and shared healing
- Cost-effective entry point

What People Are Saying

Real words from real people who walked into Belen's space carrying weight — and walked out lighter.

"I had tried every form of therapy for years — CBT, EMDR, psychoanalysis. Nothing moved the needle like this. One afternoon with Belen changed my life in ways I'm still unpacking three years later."

— Sarah M., American expat, Cuenca

"The relief was immediate. I finally understood why I was holding onto grief that didn't belong to me. It wasn't mine — it was my grandmother's. Once I saw that, I could put it down."

— David R., Retired expat, Cuenca

"Belen holds the space with such integrity and grace. She allowed me to see my family through eyes of compassion for the first time — not as villains in my story, but as people carrying their own pain."

— Maria T., Bicultural consultant, Cuenca
